

EXPECT ARRESTS SOON IN ROBLES KIDNAPING CASE

Her Terrible Experiences
Child's Mind

Austin, Texas, May 17—(AP)—Captain D. Z. Hamer of the Texas Rangers headquarters company said today he expected an arrest in the June Robles kidnaping case would be made in Texas 12 hours after the arrival here tomorrow night of "an operative" from Chicago.

Captain Hamer declined to elaborate further on his statement. His prediction was made after telephone conversations with the Sheriff at Tucson, Ariz., home of the 6-year-old girl who was returned Monday after being held captive 19 days, and with authorities at Chicago.

TO RETURN TO SCHOOL
Tucson, Ariz., May 17—(AP)—June Robles is going back to school Monday to try to forget the horror of 19 days alone in a desert hole.

But the ordeal of her cruel imprisonment by kidnapers has cut deeply into her young mind. From Carlos Robles, uncle of the little girl and one of those who rescued her last Monday, came the statement that the six-year-old victim has been more affected emotionally and physically than appeared to casual observers.

Pitiful efforts by the child to amuse herself with dolls fashioned out of date seeds and paper while she sweltered beneath a desert sun and of her dazed condition when she was lifted from the grave-like hole were related. Spurred on by these revelations, authorities extended their efforts to find her abductors.

Data Bit by Bit
"It has been difficult," Carlos Robles said, "to secure any information from June about the time she lived in the tin box (lining the hole). It repels her to speak of those days and she recalls when asked a direct question, I have had to use subtlety in eliciting information as we play with her bunnies, or cut out paper dolls. I have secured bit by bit, details of those 19 days."

Carlos Robles is assistant Pima County attorney and together with County Attorney Clarence Houston they found the girl, being directed to her hiding place by an anonymous letter from Chicago.

"I asked her," Carlos said, "if the kidnapers had given her any dolls or things to play with. She replied they had but they gave me a box of dates that had paper around it. After I ate the dates I had a lot of seeds, and I took the paper and dressed up the seeds as pretend dolls."

"The long days must have been very difficult for the child without amusements other than she could provide for herself."

TWO FLIERS TO ATTEMPT RETURN FLIGHT TO U. S.

Pond and Sabelli to Continue to Rome for Welcome

Ennis, Irish Free State, May 17—(AP)—Firm conviction that they can conquer the Atlantic on the return trip to New York was expressed by Captain George Pond and Lieut. Cesare Sabelli as they set out by automobile this morning for a visit to Dublin.

"The same power that helped us get this far can help us get back to America again," Captain Pond declared when reminded that the westward crossing is more hazardous than the east-bound trip.

"I have no doubt that we can make the return journey safely," he said. "The experience gained on our trip out will be of much assistance to us."

Portmarnock, near Dublin on the Irish Sea, has been chosen as the taking off point for the return flight.

To Fly To Rome

The airmen hope to be able to continue their flight to Rome Saturday morning, intending to remain there only a short time then fly back to Dublin and have their plane completely overhauled.

Irish hospitality today took the edge off the fliers' impatience over the necessity for time in repairing their plane.

While mechanics from the Baldwin army airbase at Dublin worked on the crippled plane in relays in a field near Lahinch, the fliers strolled about this quaint village where they were feted last night by the Chamber of Commerce. Ennis is County Clare's biggest town.

The army mechanics hoped to complete repairs within two days and enable the airmen to hop for Rome before the end of the week.

Crowds of curious milled about the craft, still setting where the fliers landed Tuesday night at the village of Moy, two miles from Lahinch.

Undercarriage Damaged
Chief damage appeared to have been done to the undercarriage when the plane, the Leonardo da Vinci, crashed into a sand bank in the landing.

Sabelli, former Italian war ace was greatly elated this morning at receipt of a message from Premier Mussolini congratulating the aviators on their Atlantic crossing.

Tentatively, they plan to fly from Lahinch to Croydon airfield near London and then on to Rome where an official greeting awaits them.

AGREEMENT ON STOCK MARKETS BILL UNLIKELY

Most of Senators Back
Glass in His Battle
With President

Washington, May 17—(AP)—A test of strength in the Senate between the clashing ideas of President Roosevelt and Senator Glass of Virginia over an agency to regulate the stock exchanges was in the making today.

Senate-House conferees on the stock bill were in deadlock even before they met to talk things over.

President Roosevelt's stand for Federal Trade Commission supervision, together with the ire of the Virginians, who engineered the Senate vote for an independent board combined to create a situation making an agreement all but impossible.

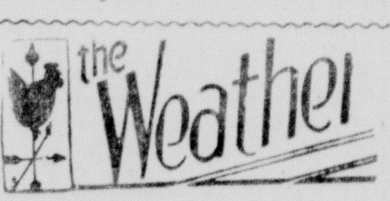

The chief executive's endorsement of the House approved plan strengthened the determination of that chamber's conferees to stand fast, while it solidified the Senate agreement-seekers behind the Glass proposal.

Senate conferees became so uncomfortable over the situation yesterday that they postponed the scheduled meeting with the House members and met together to finally agree where would be no yielding without consent of the Senate.

The Virginia Senator asserting that Roosevelt previously had assured him the independent commission plan would be acceptable to the White House, yesterday told newsmen:

"Well, the President has a right to change his mind. But you don't suppose I would pursue a phantom for five or six weeks, do you?"

The nation's anti-use about 34,120,000 gallon of anti-freeze solutions a year.

The single member was Representative Dirksen (R. ## GIRL'S CAREER AS DILLINGER'S MOLL REVEALED

Federal Jury Given Story of Evelyn Frechette

St. Paul, Minn., May 17—(AP)—Evelyn Frechette's brief career as John Dillinger's moll was sketched for a federal jury today in her trial for harboring the notorious outlaw.

The jury already had the account of her association with the long sought fugitive as related by a prosecution witness, H. H. Reinecke, Department of Justice agent. Miss Frechette, together with Dr. Clayton May and Mrs. Augusta Salt, is on trial on charges growing out of Dillinger's machine gun escape from a St. Paul apartment last March.

Reinecke, who questioned the black haired girl after her arrest, said she told him she met Dillinger in the fall of 1933 and traveled with him to Florida, St. Louis and Tucson, Ariz.

Was in Chicago
She visited him in the Crown Point jail once. The night before he made his escape she was in Chicago and met him there the next day. Reinecke said she told him they came to St. Paul and took an apartment where they lived under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Heilmann.

When the police came to the apartment on March 31, she refused to let them in, looked the door and wakened Dillinger.

"John said 'keep your shirt on' because she was a little nervous," Reinecke testified. "He dressed, tossed some money into a suitcase, shut through the door once with a burst from his machine gun, and sprayed the hallway with another burst."

Helped Him Flee
They fled through a rear stairway, the Federal agent said, and were surprised to find no police in the rear alley. She backed their car out of a garage and they drove to Indianapolis.

Grain Pit King Fights U. S. Bar

Paris, May 17—(AP)—Michael Farmer will contest the divorce action of Gloria Swanson only if she presses for custody of their daughter.

"If she really wants a divorce," the handsome Irishman said, "he has no intention of stopping her."

"But," he added, "if it is true that she is asking custody of our daughter—well that's another story!"

Nevertheless, Farmer said in discussing the action last night, he is not at all sure he would "choose to accept" a divorce.

In the Irish Free State of which he is a citizen, divorces are not recognized, he said.

"I was advised by my London attorney," Farmer said, "that if I did not accept a divorce, Gloria would remain my wife in the eyes of the law in every country and state except California."

Farmer admitted he still "would not be surprised if it were all a publicity gag."

"I'm not paying any attention to this talk until I have some word from Gloria, herself," he said.

Amboy Seniors to Present Play on Friday Evening

By Frances Lepper
AMBOY—On Friday evening, May 18, the senior class will present their class play, "Captain Applejack," an Arabian Nights adventure in three acts by Walter Hackett. This is a colorful play with plenty of adventure and romance, and is played by a very able cast directed by Miss Lucille Keefe. The scene is laid in the English home of Ambrose Applejohn (Francis Duffy), who has become "fed up" on the common place things in life and desires to go abroad to seek adventure. Miss Poppy Faire, (Lillian Elssesser), admires Applejohn in very much and is unhappy when she hears of his plans to go abroad. But at this juncture of the tale, fate plays a trick and brings adventure to their door. After his dream experiences on the pirate ship, Applejohn is perfectly content to stay at home much to the pleasure of his aunt Agatha, (Dorothy Nicholson). The cast is as follows:

Ambrose Applejohn ..... Francis Duffy
Borasky ..... James Abbott
Pengard ..... Morris Buckman
Lush ..... Byron Thier
Jaun ..... Kenneth Eastman
Dennett ..... Vernon Whitner
Poppy Faire ..... Lillian Elssesser
Anna ..... Jean Aschenbrenner
Mrs. Pengard ..... Rogene Thier
Palmer ..... Iva Jean Miller
Aunt Agatha ..... Dorothy Nicholson

The high school quartet will also held in producing sound effects.

H. W. Parker and family of Sterling visited at the MacKinnon home here Saturday.

Louise Meppin of Dixon was a business visitor here Wednesday.

Lenore and Rita Lynch, Katherine Fouk and Doris McIninch were business callers in Dixon Tuesday afternoon.

Newly Adopted Measures on Program

The current number of "The Illinois Voter" publication of the Illinois League of Women Voters, just off the press today, carries several statements of unusual interest by Department Chairmen in relation to newly adopted measures on the League's program.

Mrs. Archer Taylor, chairman of the department of child welfare, emphasizes the new item: "Coordinated state and local public welfare organization," explaining that "This does not oblige this Department to go into the entire field of public welfare but it does locate properly the division of the state administration under which child welfare services are being developed."

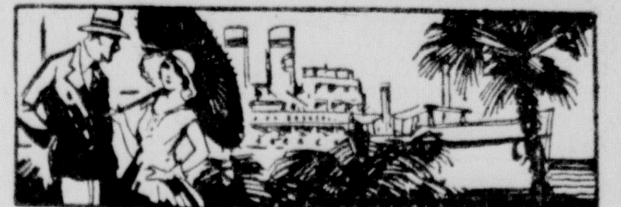

Well supported and well staffed local public welfare departments under the supervision of a state department are essential to the accomplishment of the purpose of the Child Welfare Department of the League.

Discussing the program of the Department of International Cooperation, Mrs. Quincy Wright, now National Chairman of this Department, and member of the board of the Illinois League of Women Voters, says in part: "The major addition made to the support of the Department of International Cooperation was 'government control of manufacture and shipment of arms.' This means that the League of Women Voters is now on record as favoring government control of the munitions industry as it favors government regulation of public utilities."

By not qualifying the phrase, the League is in a position to support either a national or an international measure designed to establish such control. As the Nye investigation of the munitions industry also

SPRING BY THE ROADSIDE

PUSSYWILLOW so soft, gray and silky
From boughs at the roadside, they peer,
Purring of springtime and sunshine
Neither snow nor cold weather they fear.
Wild Cherry with pink and white flowers
Small trees in artistic array
Make you feel that winter is over
And springtime is with us to stay.
A trapdoor for bees we find also Called "Butter and eggs" (every day);
And Spierwort, myriad blossoms,
Each blooming once only, they say.
Where the roadside is burnt over lightly
The fireweed springs up apace
With magenta-like coloring vivid
As it spread itself over the place.
The burdock which clings to one's dresses—
Its seeds blow all over the ground.
Wild Strawberry, trailing, white-flowered,
Its fruit a rare treat when it's found.
The daisy, gold-crowned and white petalled—
The clover, so sweet day and night
Together they cover time meadows
Presenting a wholesome delight.
The Primrose of soft yellow color

At eve, when the sun's going down,
An herb which oft grows by the roadside
Afar from the city and town.

Convolvulus airy and lovely
The base of most flowers, I know,
As it "binds" itself round all their plantings
Clinging close to all else in their row.

The "daisy" as some of us know it
Black-eyed Susan, Rudbeckia,
Cone—
With its black eye surrounded by petals
As golden as Mammy's corn pone.
Our roadsides are spread out before us
With blossoms both lowly and fine:
So love them, and cherish, and save them,
For your joy and pleasure, and mine.

ABOVE OUR CONFUSION A DREAM ARISES.

When the history of these times gets written, it is probable that the last couple of years will seem a lot less confusing than they look just now.

Sometimes it seems that our chief diversion of late has been to run around in circles. We have "come to the end of an era," but we haven't made any very clear forecast of what the next era is going to be like, and we have put in a lot of time gazing fondly back on the high old days of the 'twenties.

But once we get far enough off to get a decent perspective, it is likely that the present moment will look more like a momentary halt, a breathing space between two great adventures, than a time of bewilderment and chaos.

Our first great adventure had to do with the exploitation of the physical resources of a continent. An incredibly rich land was thrown open to human occupation, and all the old rules were abolished. One man was as good as the next one, and the prizes could be won only by the doers.

And this adventure—for all its waste, its brutality, its injustices and its greed—brought great human values. It did set many men free, it did nourish a sturdy spirit of self-reliance and determination, it did make happiness possible for many people who would not have been happy otherwise.

The depression that began with the 1929 crash put an end to this adventure—or, to be exact, to one phase of it. The get-rich-quick era was worked out; the continent was filled up, the period when free-and-easy exploitation was desirable had ended.

The job remaining to be done was just as big as ever, but the method of doing it had changed.

All that is happening to us right now is that we are fumbling around for the new method of doing the job. We have plenty of work ahead of us—enough to keep us busy for a century. The continent is as rich as ever, the people are as energetic and as determined as ever.

The great American dream—that in this land men shall be freer and happier than they have been elsewhere—is still as possible of realization as it ever was.

Beneath the seeming confusion of today is a rising determination that we shall go forward and help make the dream come true.

ARMAMENT WILL CEASE WHEN ITS CAUSES DIE.

A survey of national armaments these days gives scant reason for anyone to hope that the approaching Geneva conference will be successful.

Far from preparing for armament reduction, the major powers seem to be almost unanimous in their determination to increase their strength.

A glance around the arena, for instance, shows such phenomena as the following:

France has built a great chain of frontier forts and has increased her army by 65,000 men.

Germany has boosted her army and navy budget from $268,000,000 to $358,000,000.

Russia has increased her army by more than 100,000 men.

Japan has added somewhere between 100,000 and 400,000 men to her armed forces in three years.

Italy has added 43,000 men to her navy, and her air force; Poland has increased her forces by 61,000 men, Poland, Belgium and Czechoslovakia are spending huge sums on forts; England, Japan and the United States are working fast to build up their navies.

This certainly is not a picture of a world getting ready for a long era of peace and co-operation. But no greater mistake could be made than to suppose that these armies and navies are being strengthened out of sheer wrong-headedness, or to gratify the whims of despotic statesmen.

The nations of the world are arming because they see trouble ahead; and they see trouble because there are in the world today innumerable situations which cry aloud for settlement—Polish corridor and trade wars, disputed territory in Manchuria and in Silesia and along the Adriatic and heaven knows where else, oppressed national minorities treaties, and so on.

It ought to be clear by this time that inviting the nations to disarm without first setting straight these causes of trouble is futile.

The armament race is a dangerous and distressing thing, but it has certain definite and obvious causes. Before it can be stopped, there must be intelligent and far-sighted action to set the fundamentals straight.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The Future of the Kingdom

TEXT: Matt. 24:1 to 25:30.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

Among the effective illustrations of the kingdom of heaven none was more vivid or striking than that of the 10 virgins with the 10 lamps, going forth to meet the bridegroom.

The lamps were of no use without oil and it might have been supposed that oil would be the first consideration, but let any reader who has ever been stalled on the highway with an auto out of gas cast a stone at the foolish virgins.

The virgins were fair types of ordinary people and it was not remarkable that one-half of them were so slack as to go forth with their lamps without oil. So it was that, as the bridegroom was late, they had fallen asleep.

When they were aroused to meet him, the five wise virgins lighted their lamps and went forth, but the foolish virgins were put to shame, for their lamps had gone out and there was no time for them to go and buy more oil, though they went to seek it. The bridegroom came while they were gone, and the door was shut.

Of course, the story is constructed to point the moral that Jesus intended; namely, that people are just as foolish concerning the greater things of life as they are about the lesser things, and the foolish are shut out just as relentlessly from the high sources of grace and truth, if they neglect their opportunity as were these foolish virgins.

The teaching of this lesson is worth considering in a rather slack age. We do not today make quite so much of either heaven or hell as did a former generation. We go on for the most part without that terrible sense of destiny that has affected people so deeply in the past, but the solemn truths of the Scripture are just as solemn as they ever were.

We see men and women make through sinfulness, but often rack and ruin of life, not always through foolishness. It is not evil that alone defeats a man's life, but his lesser sins and shortcomings as well.

"I have played the fool," was old King Saul's candid confession when he had made a mess of his life. That was a life of tragedy, stark and terrible, ending with suicide on a battlefield of defeat, the career of a man, splendid in physique and endowment, who had been called to high responsibility under the most favorable circumstance.

Tragedy begun in folly—that was Saul's history. And tragedy may enter our lives through folly.

Be watchful, be well prepared and provided; leave nothing to chance, but bring all of life under the dominance of its highest opportunity and destiny—that is the lesson of the Parable of the Wise and Foolish Virgins.

Pearl Divers Are Experts

Off the northwest coast of the British island of Ceylon, in the Indian ocean, is located one of the world's most important pearl fisheries. Native divers collect the Ceylon pearl oysters. The divers wear "stoppers" fastened to their nostrils and also attached to their heads to aid in their underwater work. They can remain submerged for a remarkably long time.

The pumpkin eater's wife felt grand. Said she, "I cannot understand why I am kept locked up each day. It almost makes me sick."

"Right now I'm out, and having fun. I love to sing and dance and run. I'd still be in my house, if you tots hadn't pulled your trick."

"Well, we are glad we came along," said Goldy. "We knew it was wrong for you to be a prisoner. That's why we jerked the latch."

"Your husband fears you'll run away, or he would leave you out all day. If he returns while you are free, real trouble's bound to hatch."

Just then wee Scouty jumped and cried, "Fair Goldy's right. Please run and hide, because your husband's coming, now. I saw him, through the trees."

The poor wife reached her home once more, and then the Timmy locked the door. The Timmy dropped down on the ground, and crawled off, on their knees.

Just when they felt that they were all quite safe and sound, they heard a call. "Oh, don't fear me, you tiny tots. I've seen all that you've done."

"I'm glad you let my fine wife out, so she could play and run about. Come back again some day and I will join you in your fun."

Then Peter Pumpkin Eater ran into his house. Said Scouty, "Can you imagine anything like that? We guessed the man all wrong."

"However, let's be on our way. We may find some new friend today. Right now I think I hear some body singing some strange song."

"They scampered 'cross a hill and found a lad, whom they all gathered 'round. The boy then stopped his singing and exclaimed, 'I'm glad you came."

"I need someone to help me sing, so through the air the noise will ring. I'm singing for my supper. Tommy Tucker is my name."

(The Timmy meet Mistress Mary in the next story.)

Living Our Everyday Lives

LET'S FORGET IT

(By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton.)

Often a good forgetter is better than a good memory. Kipling wrote a great anthem, each stanza of which closes with the words, "Lest we forget." Some things we dare not forget; other things we dare not remember. There is a divine forgetting as well as a divine remembering.

By its own law the human mind inclines to forget the unpleasant, the bitter, the ugly. To free the mind of the harmful—the belittling and worrying—is as necessary as to free the stomach of the poisonous or nauseous. The normal mind throws out the unwholesome.

To hang onto bitter thoughts, to hug a hard and unrelenting spirit, is not only unwise but unhealthy. It is right to forget pain, sorrow, unkindness, and even regret for wrong. To keep such things in the mind is to injure our lives, if not ruin our work and our worth.

"Finish every day and be done with it," said Emerson. We have done what we could; some blunders and absurdities have crept in—forget them as soon as you can. Tomorrow is a new day. We must begin it well and calmly, and with a high spirit unclouded by hangovers.

We must train ourselves to do it otherwise we spoil a good workman. To do that we must learn the great law of substitution, and how to use it. We have to fight a desperate battle, if we assail dark thoughts directly, but we can whip them indirectly, if we know how.

The right strategy is to move on the flank. Put a new thought in. A good book, a brisk walk, a piece of music, a crossword puzzle—best of all a prayer—will drive out dark thoughts, and help us to get control of our minds, which is both our right and our duty.

When the old, bitter thoughts are gone, we must post sentinels of prayer at night, and clean clear thoughts by day, and keep them out. Otherwise, as in the parable of Jesus, they may gather our thoughts of their kind and return and our last state will be worse than the first.

Of Lincoln it was said: His heart was as big as the world, but it had no room in it for the memory of a wrong. Let's learn to forget! Or better still, let us forget to remember, and that will do it.

Essentials of Good Hams

Fat is essential to a good ham—if it is lean, it is nearly always lacking in flavor and tenderness. The famous Virginia hams from lean Virginia hogs are exceptions to this rule, their delicacy being attributed to the animals' summer diet of forest roots and acorns and other nuts.

Be Calm

"It is well to be calm amid excitement," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "but calm that is based on indifference is of no value to human experience."

SECOND SERIES INTERSECTIONAL GAMES IS BEGUN

Western Teams Strongest in National:
East in Junior

The theory that the eastern half of the American League and the western sector of the National are the stronger sides of the major league lines has been borne out by the first round of east-west play in the 1934 season, but not without important exceptions.

The cold figures for the past two weeks of intersectional campaigning, with the east "at home" in the junior circuit and the west in the National, are distinctly lopsided. The American League's eastern clubs recorded 25 victories to 16 for the invaders. The western teams of the National won 27 and lost 18.

Despite their frequent defeats, however, Cleveland, Detroit, the St. Louis Browns and possibly the Chicago White Sox gave signs that they may be more troublesome when they start playing on their own fields today. Of the eight American League clubs only the league leading New York Yankees gained any big advantage in the first intersectional series. They took nine out of ten decisions and increased their margin over the second-place Cleveland Indians from 11-2 games to 4-1-2.

Athletes Steady
Counting out those ten games played by the Yanks, the east held only a 16-15 margin and much of that was due to the steady performances of the Philadelphia Athletics. The A's won six games and lost three as they climbed from seventh place to a tie with Detroit for third in their home stand. The other eastern clubs, Washington and Boston, each suffered six losses to five victories, equalling Detroit's record and falling below Cleveland, which broke even in ten decisions.

Pittsburgh and St. Louis both turned in brilliant at home records to give the National League's western clubs their big advantage but the big surprise came from Boston. The Braves, who had divided a dozen games with their eastern rivals, led the invaders in their tour of the west, winning six games and losing five. All the rest, including the world champion New York Giants, fell far below the .500 mark.

Braves Drop Peg
In spite of their good showing the Braves dropped a notch in the standings as the Cardinals, riding up nine victories to three defeats, advanced from fifth place to third. The Giants, despite their eight defeats in 13 starts, and their swift slide from the league lead, refused to drop out of the first division. Meanwhile, Pittsburgh and Chicago became entangled in a duel for first place. The Pirates, who won eight out of ten games, finished ahead by a few percentage points over the Cubs, who won eight games and lost five.

The clubs reverse the order of the first series to begin a new

LEVINSKY ABLE TO TALK: IS IN HOSPITAL TODAY

While Illinois Athletic Commission Looks Into His Run-Out

Chicago, May 17—(AP)—Latest bulletin from the hospital room of King Levinsky, Chicago's personality kid of boxing and strange appearances.

"Your old Kingfish is getting stronger. Still nervous and afraid to look at himself in the looking glass. He hopes to get out in a day or two. Will go back to Los Angeles as soon as he can to fight that Al Lasky guy. He isn't mad at any one and that includes Pete Reilly

The bulletin was issued by the Kingfish and his sister-manager, Lena Levy.

Meanwhile, the Illinois State Athletic Commission continued a quiet but firm investigation into the whole case of Levinsky's training at Los Angeles for the Lasky fight and his sudden runout on the match. A physician was dispatched to examine the Kingfish and will make his report to the commission today. The general opinion here was that the Kingfish would be able to patch up the whole affair by scooting back to Los Angeles as soon as possible and keeping his date with Lasky.

Springfield, Ill., May 17—(AP)—Warneke and Ruffing are just a couple of names in the new Central League. Although Lon Warneke does well for the Chicago Cubs and Charley Ruffing does some nice hurling for the New York Yankees, the younger brothers of these two pitchers failed to make the grade with the Central League's Springfield entry.

Al Warneke and Heinie Ruffing, both pitchers, were released last night by Manager Joe Mathes.

TEMPLARS PLAN JOURNEY TO TRI-ANNUAL CONCLAVE

Dixon Knights Get Low Railroad Fares for Frisco Event

The Knights Templars of the United States are making plans for the thirty-ninth annual convocation, which is to be held at San Francisco, California. These convocations offer to the members of the commanderies opportunities for travel at low cost and are usually attended by thousands of Sir Knights from all over the country who participate in a colorful parade as a climax to the business sessions.

This year rail fares are the lowest that they have been for years and several Dixon Sir Knights are planning on making this tour to the west coast, which leaves Chicago on July 1st and is to be routed south through Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and southern California to San Francisco. Following the convocation which will be held from July 8th to July 13th the special train on which the Dixon delegation will travel will go north to Portland, Seattle, and Vancouver and then turn east through the Canadian Rockies to Lake Louise and Banff. The train arrives back in Chicago on July 17.

Because of the fact that there will probably be fewer Sir Knights able to take the trip this year than usual the reservations are not limited to Sir Knights. Masons, or friends of Templars may also take advantage of this unusual opportunity and make reservations to travel with the Dixon Templars. These reservations must be in the hands of F. H. Kreim by June 1st. From the number already indicating their intention of going there will be about one car from Dixon and vicinity on the special train.

Winning their second game in the Illinois State Baseball League Compton had little trouble in disposing of Paw Paw Sunday afternoon at the local grounds, by a score of 11 to 2. Prestegard pitching proved to be too much for the Paw Paw players, as 12 of the 15 batters in the first five innings, struck out. Manager Webber, sent Knauer to the mound in the sixth, and was able to retire six by the strike out route. Paw Paw used Kroh for three innings, who gave Compton 6 hits for 7 runs and was retired in the third inning in favor of Gunderman.

Knauer lifted a high fly over center field for a home run in the third, aggregating three circuits for the local team in the league race this season. C. Chaon, who used for the first time this season appeared in right field and showed remarkable form by his fielding along getting a hit the second trip to the plate. After the first inning, Manager Webber and his crew were well out in front in the scoring position with Paw Paw threatening to score in the fifth. Arthur Chaon, who has been pitching some fashionable baseball thus far, was unable to appear in uniform Sunday due to a bad injury to his ankle at Lee Center last Sunday afternoon when he slid into second base after getting a nice hit into the right field. Next Sunday afternoon the highly touted Kakusha Parks from Mendota will cross bats with Manager Webber's team for the third start in the race.

Daily Health Talk

THE HUMAN MACHINE

Few of us stop frequently enough and long enough to consider the mechanical aspects of the human body. Were we to do so, we would perhaps have a more wholesome respect for its limitations and therefore conserve its resources.

The human body is a living machine which is obliged to expend a measure of energy in simply keeping alive. The heart never pauses in its task in keeping the blood in circulation and under an effective pressure. Our breathing mechanism is constantly operating to supply the body the oxygen needed for combustion and for the removal of useless and injurious waste products.

An adequate appreciation of this fundamental fact enables us to understand many things; why for example, nervous, thin children who do not gain weight through an increase in their diet can at times be rendered less irritable, less nervous and can be made to gain weight by the simple device of several additional hours of daily rest.

This understanding of the human machine will also cast light upon a radical remedy recently applied in the treatment of certain forms of chronic heart disease. This consists in the total removal of the thyroid gland, an operation of major seriousness. The remedy is heroic, yet those who have applied it claim good results for it.

Whether this radical treatment will ultimately stand up under the test of experience is at this time impossible to say, but if it does, it will be due to the fact that with the removal of the thyroid a restricting limit is placed upon the demands which the body can make on the heart and the circulatory system, by keeping the energy demands of the body at a comparatively low level.

Tomorrow—Growing Pains.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

That which is crooked cannot be made straight; and that which is wanting cannot be numbered. — Ecclesiastes, 1:15.

Be certain that he who has betrayed thee once will betray thee again.—Lavater.

Palm Leaf Rain Coats

Not having any pesos to lay away for a rainy day, the native along Mexico's rugged west coast collects palm leaves. When the rainy day appears, he weaves his palm leaves into a rain coat, just as porous as any other rain coat on the market.

GETTLE KIDNAPERS START LIFE TERM IN PRISON TODAY

California Makes Short
Shrift of Legal Red
Tape: Hold Suspect

Los Angeles, May 17 (AP)—A bootlegger, a farm hand and a day laborer who dreamed of obtaining $60,000 ransom by kidnaping a millionaire went to San Quentin prison to begin life terms today.

The three, James F. Kirk, Roy A. Williams and Larry Kerrigan respectively, had pleaded guilty to charges of kidnaping William F. Gettle, wealthy Beverly Hills oil man.

Meanwhile officers held Clyde Stoddard in connection with the case. Captain William Right of the sheriff's homicide squad asserted Stoddard, taken in custody last night, admitted part ownership of a sedan found in a garage at the house in La Crescenta where Gettle had been held prisoner, and that he had registered the car under the name of George Slater.

Bright said Stoddard claimed Kerrigan had telephoned him to bring the car to a Harvard Street apartment last Sunday night but when he arrived there Kirk took it telling him, "we've got to use the car tonight." Stoddard said he had not seen the car again. Police said Stoddard had twice been convicted of prohibition law violations.

Hoped For Paroles
Until an hour before they boarded the train for San Quentin last night Kirk, Williams and Kerrigan held high hopes of obtaining paroles. But at that time they were taken to federal court and arraigned on indictments charging them with conspiracy to use the mails to extort.

Under the state law a prisoner is ineligible for parole if another indictment or conviction stands against him.

The three pleaded not guilty, their bail was fixed at $50,000 and their trial set for May 29th.

Arraigned with them were Loretta Williams, alias Woody, and Mona Gallighan, alias Joan Burke who also entered not guilty pleas. The women were returned to the county jail to await trial.

Prison in Which Kidnapers Held Child 19 Days

NEA—Chicago Bureau

FEDERAL HELP FOR FARMERS IN DROUGHT AREAS

Government To Step In Where Mother Nature
Has Fallen Down

Chicago, May 17—(AP)—Farmers of the drought-ridden central west were cheered today by a promise of governmental aid from Washington.

Denied substantial relief by Mother Nature, they scanned with hope the legislative reports that nine House members from the rainless districts had agreed in committee on a plan of action, including liberalization of the corn-hog-wheat control rules.

Another move which served to encourage the agrarians was the administration's authorization of $550,000 for seed and the sowing of quick foraging crops.

Meanwhile a fickle weather, brought low, and then high temperatures. A relentless sun beat down on the seared farm and garden crops, giving growers further dismay. Light rains had fallen in some of the afflicted areas, but were insufficient, experts agreed, to relieve the situation.

No General Rains
The weather man predicted local showers today and tomorrow in most of the upper Great Lakes areas and in the extreme upper Mississippi river valley, and possibly at some points in the Dakotas, but no general downpour was sighted.

From the Illinois Department of Agriculture came the disquieting news that chinch bugs were menacing the corn fields where this grain has germinated.

The high temperatures and lack of rain also combined to bring about curtailment of milk production.

Another "black blizzard" of dust, similar to the one that swept a large section of the country east of the Mississippi last week struck St. Paul, Minn., yesterday when the temperature soared to 90 degrees.

Iowa Corn Germinates
From Iowa, however, came a cheering note in the general situation with the report of the Federal and State Weather Bureau that rains over the state during the past few days had served to germinate corn—one of Iowa's biggest crops.

Officials of the Inland Waterways Corporation, operating Federally-owned barge lines, said yesterday the drought is presenting difficulties to their operation of barges on the upper Mississippi, and that they expect more if they open service on the upper Missouri as they are scheduled to do so on June 1.

The first sixteen days of May in Chicago have been the driest on record with only .02 of an inch of rain.

First-termers will be kept from contact with hardened criminals. Diagnostic depots are being established at Joliet and Menard. Then each convict will be studied and eventually sent to one of the following divisions of the Illinois state penitentiary.

Stateville and Menard—Mentally normal first offenders above 21 years of age.

Pontiac—Mentally normal offenders 21 years old and under.

Joliet, old prison—Mentally normal recidivists.

Menard, old hospital for criminally insane—Inmates with psychosis and mental defects and continuing criminal tendencies.

Dwight—All women convicts.

The reclassification program, enacted by the legislature a year ago, permits judges to sentence prisoners to the state penitentiary, but reserves to the welfare department the right to say what institution shall be used in each case.

FORD CHEERED SAMUEL INSULL WITH A VISIT

Motor Car Magnate
Believes Latter Victim of Bankers

Chicago, May 17—(AP)—The Herald and Examiner said Henry Ford paid a secret visit to the hospital room of Samuel Insull, deposed utilities magnate, Tuesday.

The meeting, the newspaper stated, took place after Ford completed his inspection of A Century of Progress grounds and had started back to his train.

The Detroit industrial leader, the paper said, spent 15 minutes in a chat with Insull, then boarded his train.

There was no confirmation of the visit at St. Luke's hospital, but the Herald and Examiner said it was understood the conversation turned to the World's Fair, the late Thomas A. Edison, who was close to both men, and the Insull affairs in court.

During his tour of the Exposition grounds, according to the newspaper, Ford had expressed sympathy for Insull and intimated he felt the former utilities executive was the victim of circumstances in which New York bankers had an important part.

Early in 1932, just before the crash that carried the Insull utilities down, it was rumored but never verified that Insull had sought a loan from Ford, going to the automobile magnate because of his independence of Wall Street bankers.

JAPAN DEMANDS "EQUAL RIGHTS" FOR HER NAVY

Prince Coming to U. S. to Sound Out Sentiment Here

Yokohama, Japan May 17—(AP)—Prince Fumimaro Konoye sailed for the United States today, primed to inform American leaders that Japan at the 1935 naval conference will demand "equal rights" in national defense and abandonment of the present ratio method of naval limitation.

The Prince was given last minute instructions, a high authority revealed, at a breakfast with Japan's Naval War lords in Tokyo shortly before his departure by train for Yokohama.

The youthful political leader, on recently installed as president of the House of Peers, sailed on the liner Asama Maru bound for San Francisco. United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew saw him off in Tokyo.

Meaning Undecided
Whether "equal rights" means actual tonnage parity or whether Japan will be satisfied with a general Anglo-American admission of her equal ranking as a naval power remains to be decided in a series of high state councils in coming months.

The naval leaders told Prince Konoye at the breakfast that Japan is unwilling for the 1935 conference to break down, but will reject any agreement which she believes fails to remove all apprehensions concerning the empire's security.

Japan has indicated that she will seek naval parity with Great Britain and the United States at the 1935 conference and Prince Konoye is expected to sound out American sentiment on naval affairs.

Although both the Prince and Foreign office officials insisted the American journey is in no way official, vernacular newspapers played up his departure as a spokesman of the Empire's naval ambitions.

Sen. Reed Takes
"After The Bell"
Crack at New Deal

Pittsburgh, May 17—(AP)—Senator David A. Reed, who based his campaign for the Republican nomination on an anti-new deal platform, acknowledged victory over Governor Gifford A. Pinchot with an "after-the-bell" swing at the Roosevelt administration and the so-called "brain trust."

At the Rolling Rock Country Club the Senator ridiculed the "professorial and college boy administration."

"The Constitution was written in Pennsylvania and so was the Declaration of Independence. Pennsylvanians are not going to lie down submissively and allow a lot of professors to take away the liberties that were guaranteed to us in those two great documents."

"This country grew great upon those principles and we are not ready to admit the college boys know more than all our ancestors who have given us the finest country on earth x x x."

"I interpret the result to mean that in Pennsylvania we want neither the old deal, nor the new deal, but the square deal."

DONNA of the BIG TOP by BEULAH POYNTER

BEGIN HERE TODAY
DONNA GABRIEL and MADELINE SIDDAL who call themselves "The Gabriel Sisters" are circus performers. Years earlier Madeline ran away from her grandfather's farm.
When Donna is injured by a fall from a trapeze Madeline arranges for her to be taken to GRANDFATHER SIDDAL's farm to recuperate. To please her grandfather Donna pretends to be Madeline. She falls in love with BILL SIDDAL, Madeline's cousin, and though she is ashamed of deceiving Bill and Grandfather she is afraid to tell the truth.
CON DAVID, circus animal trainer, loves Donna but when Madeline tells him that her partner is married, Con, believing Donna lost to him, marries Madeline. Though terrified of the lions and tigers she takes part in his animal act.
Con sees one of Donna's letters to Madeline and discovers how she tricked him into marriage.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIX
WHEN the animals had been driven back through the covered runway and the uproar had subsided Renfro halted Con. "What's the idea?" he demanded. "Trying to commit suicide or pull a new act?"

"Neither." The animal trainer strode through the sawdust-covered corridor that led from the "big top" to the dressing tent, brushing aside everyone who stood in his way.

Madeline was waiting at the door of her dressing room. Under the rouge her cheeks were pale and her eyes black. "Say, what's the matter with you?" she began.

Con caught her wrist, jerked the door open with his other hand and almost flung her into the room. The two other women who shared the dressing room stared at him in amazement.

"Get out," he told them. Both left quickly, without a word. Occasional quarrels and even fights were to be expected between married couples and Con was notoriously temperamental.

Alone with Madeline, Con became deadly calm. A smile that distorted his features, robbing them of all attractiveness, spread over his face. "So Donna is to be married?" he drawled.

"Why—why, yes. I told you that a long time ago."

"Yes, you told me! You told me before she had even thought of such a thing. Let's see—how many months ago was it? Long before you trapped me—"

"Don't you say I trapped you!" Madeline rasped.

"Why not? You knew that if I hadn't thought Donna was going to marry that rube cousin of yours I wouldn't have married you. So you lied. You told me she'd written you that they were engaged—"

"You just said they're going to be married," she broke in. "I don't know what you're talking about! Now you say I lied—"

"I'm talking about this," Con extracted the letter from his pocket and flung it at her. "Oh, I read it! If you can convince me that Donna Gabriel ever wrote you she was going to be married before this letter came you can convince me I'm the king of England! Good God, you women are more treacherous than tigers! I suppose she's marrying him now because you married me."

MADLINE burst into hysterical laughter. "Of all the conceits! Don't tell me you still believe Donna would ever have had you! She couldn't see you for dust at any time, and I knew it! Yes, I lied when I said they were going to be married. Why not? I was fool enough to think that if you knew you could never have her you'd snap out of it and begin to get something out of life—"

"With you?"

"Yes, with me. It's only your damned pride and conceit that's eating you now. That's all it ever was between you and Donna—and don't tell me any different. I've lived with you long enough to know you'll never love any one but yourself. The only reason you wanted Donna was because you couldn't have her. I wish to God she'd married you! I don't want you. Not any more!"

She dropped into a chair, laid her head on the shelf before the mirror and burst into angry tears. Tears were a defense Con could not combat. He paced the little room, whistled disconsolately and then swung on his heels and left.

Because the scene still rankled and because both were stubborn the strained situation continued. Con had never known humility. Never in his life had he admitted himself in the wrong. The overtures toward reconciliation would have to come from Madeline, and Madeline, in the throes of jealousy, convinced herself that she hated Con and did not care if they never spoke again.

Consequently the breach widened. Con treated Madeline with a supercilious courtesy that infuriated her and fanned to a higher flame her hatred and jealousy. Probably during those days when she completely ignored him he came nearer to loving her than at any other time.

Lucy, the Bengal, was the only one of his beasts Con really cared for. Lucy could not be tamed.

AND it was because he had met his match in this jungle cat that Con loved her.

"Better watch out," Renfro warned. "I don't have to tell you there are some cats you can't train. That beast is a devil. You'll never lick her."

"I will if it's the last thing I do! I'll make her crawl on her belly and like it."

If Madeline had learned a lesson from the Bengal tiger she might have won Con's love. If she had continued to be aloof, cold and defiant he would in time have forgiven what she had done and found it worth while to try to reinstate himself.

But Madeline was a woman in love. After a week's coolness, when she alternated between hating Con and aching for him, she smothered her pride and begged his forgiveness.

"It was because I loved you," she sobbed. "I know it was a rotten thing to do but I was just crazy and I knew Donna would never marry you. I'm telling you the truth, the God's truth! Donna had a crush on Bill Siddal the first time she went to visit my grandfather and I knew if she and Bill were thrown together they'd get married. You've got to forgive me, Con. I can't go on like this! It's just killing me to have you treat me this way."

"I suppose it was your idea to have Donna go to the farm after the accident?"

"Well, it was a lot better than having her stay in a hospital and it saved expense—"

"And threw her and your precious cousin together! Just what does your grandfather think of Donna's sponging on him this way?"

"Why, he thinks she is me—er—he loves her because—"

SCOUTS' ANNUAL CAMPOREE TO BE HELD JUNE 18-21

Black Hawk Area Out- ing to Be Held at Camp Pinchurst

Plans for the Boy Scouts Camporee at Camp Pinchurst, Rockford, which will attract 500 between June 18th and 21st, will be in the expert hands of Robert L. Ellis, Field Scout Executive for the Black Hawk Area and D. Cameron Findlay, Neighborhood Commissioner of Mt. Morris. It was announced today.

Local Scouts who attend the Camporee will benefit from one of the most extensive and educational programs ever developed for such a meeting.

Work was started in Rockford on the preparation of the camp site for accommodation of approximately 2500 Scouts.

Ellis has had much experience in program direction, having served as Scout Executive in Jacksonville, Ill., and as Camp Director of the Michigan Beach Club Camp for Scouts during the Century of Progress, Chicago, last year.

Findlay directed camp fire programs at the Camporee last year and has been specializing in Scout ceremonial work.

The program now being prepared for the camp fires, includes the development of many interesting events, each telling a story in pantomime. Interpretive Indian dancing, the mob scene from Julius Caesar and the "diver stunt" are being considered for presentation.

(Contributed.)
Arthur C. Stanley was born in Sheffield, England and came to this country at the age of eight years.

He passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Dommell, in Rock Falls on Saturday, May 12, at the age of 77 years.

In 1881 he was united in marriage to Anna Kelly. The greater part of his life was spent in this community, with the exception of several years when he was engaged in business in New Mexico.

He returned to Illinois when his health became poor and spent the remaining years of his life here. During the past several months he had been in failing health and his passing came as a relief to the intense suffering he endured uncomplainingly.

He was preceded in death by his wife, who passed away three years ago, and four children, John, who passed away on April 9th of

TRIED GLY-CAS AS A LAST RESORT

"Gave Me a New Lease On Life," Declares Mr. Nagel; Stomach and Bowel Disorders Corrected, Lumbago Entirely Ended.

MR. JOHN NAGEL

"After medical authorities and all kinds of medicines failed to help me—this new Gly-Cas gave me a new lease on life," said Mr. John Nagel, 1816 Main St., Keokuk, Ia.

"A medicine that can give such good results to a person like myself who has suffered 30 years is worthy of praise. I had been badly constipated, my stomach would cause me awful misery after eating, and attacks of indigestion were awful. My kidneys wouldn't allow me a good night's sleep and lumbago nearly crippled me at times. But by the time I had finished my first box of Gly-Cas I was feeling like a new man. And today my stomach and bowel troubles are over, kidneys are regulated and lumbago is a thing of the past. It is wonderful that a medicine can do what Gly-Cas has done for me." Gly-Cas is sold by Campbell's White Cross Pharmacy, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

MRS. THOMAS LEGGITT (Contributed.)

Eliza Elizabeth, daughter of Mary and Isaac Myers was born Jan. 3, 1863 in Pine Creek township, Ogle county, Ill., and departed from her earthly home last Thursday morning, May 10 at the age of 71 years, four months and seven days. Although her health had been failing for many years, death released her suffering after an illness of ten days duration.

On Nov. 28, 1884 she was united in marriage to Thomas Leggitt, to whom she has been a very devoted companion for over one-half century. To this union were born five children, two of whom have preceded their mother in death, Mary in infancy and Charles last Feb. 8. Mrs. Leggitt was baptized and united with the Disciples church at the age of 15 years and with the exception of about seven years she has spent her entire life in the vicinity and will be greatly missed by all who knew her. She was a very fond lover of flowers and spent much of her time among them.

Besides her grief stricken husband she leaves to mourn her passing two daughters, Mrs. Julia Henderson of Whitetail, Mont., Mrs. Edna Huges of East Poplar River, Saskatchewan, Canada, one son, Ira M., of Dixon and eleven grandchildren, besides many other relatives and a host of friends.

A precious one from us has gone, A voice we loved so well is still A place is vacant in our home Which never can be filled. God in his wisdom has revealed, The boon His love had given, And though the body slumbers here The soul is safe in heaven.

Funeral services were conducted from the Staples funeral chapel at 1 o'clock and from the Pine Creek Brethren church at 3:30 with interment in the Brethren cemetery. Rev. James A. Barnett, pastor of the Christian church officiated at both services. Mrs. Emmert and Mrs. Briscoe rendered four beautiful selections.

Relatives from out of town who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Myers, Marshalltown, Iowa, Mrs. Julia Henderson of Whitetail, Mont., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leggitt of Freeport, Mr. and Mrs. William Duffey, Mrs. Annie Myers of Brookville and Ellsworth Leggitt of Oregon.

Chalk Up Another Score for Standard's Engineers

LIVE POWER
per gallon

More Live Power per dollar, too, for there's no extra charge for

Standard Red Crown Superfuel

More Live Power per gallon means that your car will get off to a faster start, take tough hills more easily and hold high speed hour after hour without hard labor for your engine.

How more Live Power is made available and usable in Standard Red Crown Superfuel is a more involved story. It is accomplished in the refining. Heavier, slower parts of an already excellent gasoline are converted into faster, keener fractions. . . But you are most interested in the result. And the result, as evidenced in your car, will be better performance—markedly better.

May we suggest that you drive in where you see the familiar Red Crown? Make your usual outlay for a supply of gasoline—for Superfuel sells at the price of "regular". We believe this small investment will lead to a big return in your motor-ing enjoyment this summer.
